

Announcing Our 2024-25 Schulze Awards Winners

Kimberly Eddleston (Northeastern University)
Mat Hughes (University of Leicester)

KEYWORDS: Schulze Awards.

Each year, the Schulze Publication Awards celebrate the authors of the most impactful articles published on FamilyBusiness.org and EIX, our sister publication. These awards recognize exceptional thought leadership, clarity of perspective, and the ability to bridge research and practice, inspiring entrepreneurs, educators, and family business leaders worldwide.

Our newest group of FamilyBusiness.org winners — who published articles during the academic year of July 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025 — wrote about topics that are both perennial and timely: conflict, leadership and governance, ESG, managing wealth, marketing your business, navigating tariffs and uncertainty, and much more. Their contributions have helped establish FamilyBusiness.org as a top resource for cutting-edge research and practical guidance for family-run enterprises.
