

e-Fest Grants Can Help Schools Fund Entrepreneurship Programs

Jennifer Gessner (EIX/University of St. Thomas)

KEYWORDS: student entrepreneurs, efest, Student innovators, Student competitions.

e-Fest®, our annual business idea competition for undergraduates, returns April 18-20, 2024. If you're a professor or advisor to students in an entrepreneurship program at an accredited US-based college or university, take note: We're offering some developmental grants to help these students get their business ideas ready for the competition.

EIX and the Schulze Family Foundation will award up to $125,000 in development grants to institutions to support developing e-Fest teams and/or entrepreneurship related programs and activities. First time grantees will receive $2,500. Schools that received a grant(s) in the past and met grant requirements are eligible for a continuation grant of $1,500.

Development Grant applications opened October 18, 2023. Visit the e-Fest® website for more information about development grants, the competition, team resources and lots more! Be sure to subscribe and stay connected for all things e-Fest 2024.

Development Grant Rules

Grant recipients must:

- be a 4-year college or university in North America
- offer at least one entrepreneurship course
- be engaged in student entrepreneurship experiences and learning
- encourage the development of at least one undergraduate e-Fest team

DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

Up to $2,500
Apply Online
October 18 - January 31

Lightbulb Lunch & Learn

Wondering what to do with a Development Grant?
Register Now!

